COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

CL836D: Canon Law for the Diaconate (3 credits)

This course reviews the theological foundation of Church Law in regards to the needs for the deacon. It will focus upon aspects of ministry within the parish inclusive of the sacraments. There will be a focus on annulments, clerical rights, dispensations in marriage and their meaning. There will also be a review of practical cases that will apply what is learned.

Instructor: Mr. Philippe Yates, J.C.D.

MO 607: Fundamental Moral Theology (3 credits)

This Course analyzes some of the foundational issues of Christian ethics, especially from the perspective of Roman Catholic theology. Special attention is given to the following topics: moral experience as a starting point of ethical reflection; Christian moral formation as call to discipleship and spiritual maturity; the interaction between character, choices and community in human ethical profile; the historical development of moral theology and its contemporary context; Vatican II vision of the renewal of moral theology; the normative role of Jesus as the concrete universal of Christian ethics; the human person as moral agent; biblical and faith traditions as well as human experience as sources of Christian morality; the formation of conscience; the function of moral norms and principles; the role of the Magisterium and a critique of moral decision making in light of Veritatis Splendor; Christian moral conversion and moral discernment; Pope Francis on the formation of conscience and mercy.

Instructor: Rev. Paul Varuvel, S.T.D.

PS641: Field Education & Theological Reflection Seminar

The purpose of this course is to provide ministry opportunities and knowledge that enable a student to increase responsibility for assessment, assistance, referrals, collaboration, planning, to be acclimated to the ministry as it relates to the Church and the community. Students will experience supervision to gain knowledge and develop personal identity as a minister, and develop a habit of accountability. Before registering for field education, students must contact Kathleen Castillo, Field Education Director, at kcastillo@cks.edu or 716.655.7094, to discuss possible placements.
